leighalexander: Realized something-- just visually, WoW is beginning to look dated. Tech advances online have been amazing.

Earnest Cavalli - But remember, the game is going on six years old with only minor engine changes.

Plus, given its stylized aesthetics, WoW doesn't age the same way as more realistic games, so even if it looks dated compared to, say, Final Fantasy XIV, it doesn't lose its luster to those who appreciate the visual style.

Especially since it's Blizzard's trademarked style, which, given the company's insane sales figures, boasts a fanbase larger than the population of any city in human history. Oct 8, 2010
